Art Unit: 1731

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-4 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Berkey (4,822,389) in view of Berkey (5,152,816).

Berkey (4,822,389) fully discloses the method recited in original claim 1 (See Abstract, Figs. 1-5 and Col. 7, lines 44-57). Tapered portions are described at Col. 1, lines 8-9. With regard to claim 3, the cylindrical member may be subjected to a drawing force (Col. 4, lines 48-55) and Berkey notes that "drawing is well known in the art". With regard to claim 4, Berkey show severing or cutting (Abstract and Fig. 3). Applicant has now added limitations to claim 1 to require that the tube is placed into a frame and that heating "from outside the frame" is performed.

As discussed in the first office action Berkey (4,822,389) discloses that it may be desirable to retain the outside diameter of the formed part (See Col. 4, lines 42-45). Berkey (5,152,816) disclose a related process of forming a tapered aperture at the end of a capillary tube bore where a heating step is employed. Berkey (5,152,816) discloses the use of elements 33-36 which comprise support device 37. Heating is preformed outside device 37 (See Fig. 5). It is submitted that the device 37 qualifies as the instant frame and would inherently restrict an increase in the outside diameter of the glass tube when the process of Berkey (5,152,816) is preformed. It would have been obvious to use a support with heating outside the support as shown by Berkey

(5,152,816) in the process of Berkey (4,822,389) in order to provide for support during formation of the article.

Claim 10 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
